

The benefits of the LUXX Personality Toolset for life partnerships

Live your love

Life partnerships are special relationships.

They have a special meaning and a special value in our lives.

They have special emotional conditions. They are about love, deep trust and shaping our lives and dreams together.

Good life partnerships can give us a lot of happiness and strength, make it easier for us to overcome challenges in other areas of life and give us stability and meaning.

LUXX can make a significant contribution to maintaining this good relationship for a long time.

Despite all the happiness that life partnerships offer us, we unfortunately often experience great disappointment. Life partnerships in particular are usually associated with great expectations. Expectations of what the other person should be and fulfill in our lives. If this is not fulfilled, we are disappointed. That doesn't have to be the case.

Being in love does not make us the same, but it does make us generous to our differences. The emotions that reflect individual motivations become more and more tangible in everyday life together. It's good when partners have the same motives - their understanding of each other is deep and emotionally strengthening for the relationship.

But what if they are different? Sometimes what was attractive, funny or just "you" in the beginning starts to get in the way.

The understanding for each other slowly diminishes. What was "funny" becomes disturbing and annoying. Emotional differences turn into misunderstandings and conflicts because we can't understand the "why" of their actions.

Reproaches can quickly arise from the experienced behavior: "Why are you doing that?", "Can't you finally ...".

But it doesn't have to come to that.

Leave all possible emotional misunderstandings behind and make all emotional differences discussable, for realistic and resilient solutions as well as for a permanently happy life partnership.

LUXX cannot heal injuries. But LUXX can help you find your way back to old trust and mutual appreciation through a new understanding and a new view of your partner.

For relationships that are in a good phase, LUXX means that misunderstandings and potentially serious conflicts can be avoided. As a couple, you know that happiness in love is not automatic. You invest in your relationship because you take care to understand each other emotionally at an early stage.

What does LUXX mean for partnerships?

It illustrates the individual needs, values and goals of the partners

LUXX clarifies the inner motives and thus makes cognitively understandable what the other person cannot feel

LUXX provides more understanding and acceptance both for myself and for my partner.

Explains the "why" behind the action and makes it understandable and discussable

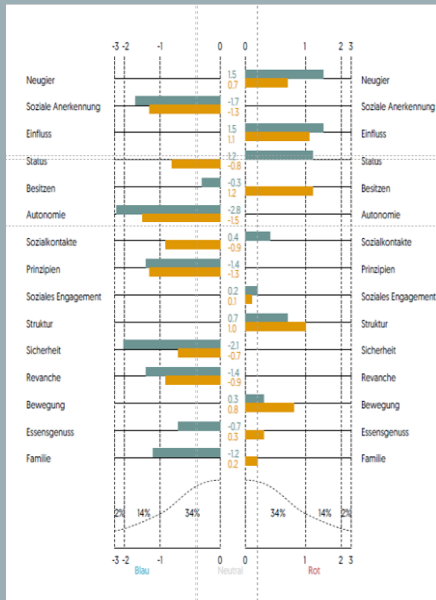

Helps to resolve and avoid misunderstandings in the interpretation of behavior

Helps to reduce the personal impact of the other person's actions

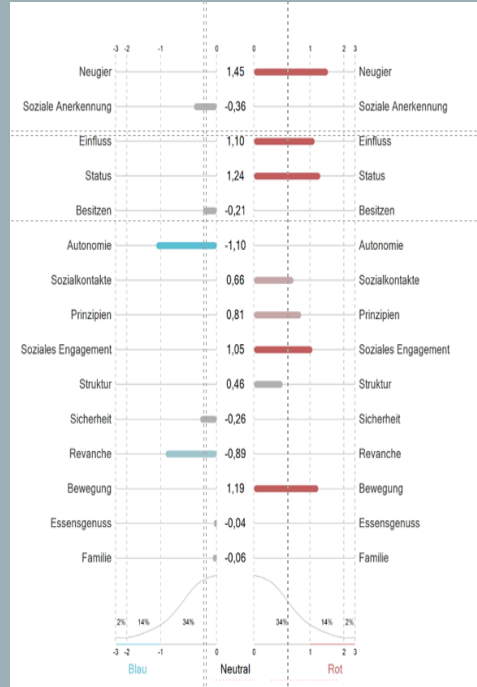

Shows who can bring what to the relationship and what benefits this can have for the relationship, as well as how the differences can also enrich the relationship

Helps to find new ways for an appreciative and trusting, long-term relationship

Couple profile

Individual profile

What does LUXX mean for partnerships?

- It illustrates the individual needs, values and goals of the partners
- LUXX clarifies the inner motives and thus makes cognitively understandable what the other person cannot feel
- LUXX provides more understanding and acceptance both for myself and for my partner.
- Explains the "why" behind the action and makes it understandable and discussable
- Helps to resolve and avoid misunderstandings in the interpretation of behavior
- Helps to reduce the personal impact of the other person's actions
- Shows who can bring what to the relationship and what benefits this can have for the relationship, as well as how the differences can also enrich the relationship
- Helps to find new ways for an appreciative and trusting, long-term relationship

The motives of the LUXX

ENJOYMENT describe for what purpose and with what goal as well as what kind of knowledge and reflection are important for people.

SOCIAL RECOGNITION describes through whom a person's positive self-image is built up. From the person themselves or from feedback from other people.

INFLUENCE describes how important it is for a person to make decisions or implement decisions.

STATUS describes how important it is for a person to have a public, elitist or egalitarian reputation.

OWNERSHIP describes the emotion with which a person views their possessions, with the emotion of having and receiving or with the emotion of using and consuming.

AUTONOMY describes how a person forms relationships; either with a focus on emotional independence or with a focus on emotional connection and closeness.

SOCIAL CONTEXT describes how important it is for a person to maintain physical proximity and verbal exchange with other people or to be alone.

PRINCIPLES describes the importance and impact of principles in a person's life.

SOCIAL COMMITMENT describes the question of who a person helps - strangers and society or just their own people.

STRUCTURE describes how important structure and planning are in a person's life or how important spontaneity and flexibility are to them.

SECURITY describes the importance of security in a person's life.

REVANCHE describes how important it is for a person to compensate for experienced or suspected injustice.

MOVEMENT describes how important it is for a person to exert themselves physically or to actively relieve and relax.

FOOD ENJOYMENT describes the importance of food in a person's life, pleasure or satisfying hunger.

FAMILY describes how a person shapes their relationship with the people they call their own family; caring or in partnership.

SENSUALITY describes the importance of sensuality and sexuality in a person's life.

